Spaghetti Supper In Italian Setting To Be Served Here Monday, Feb. 13

The atmosphere of Italy's Ap-plan Way will prevail at the Woman's Club on Monday night, February 13 when the St. Edward's Men's Club stage a real, Italian spaghetti supper. The spaghetti will be cooked and served like the "piananos" serve it and the Woman's Club will be transformed into an Italian spaghetti garden with the checkered table cloths, candle-in-the-bottle as decorations and chamber music all around. Members of the committee in charge of the event say even an old organ grinder, with live monkey, might appear on the scene. Could be!

Tickets are on sale by any member of the St. Edward's Men's Club and are priced at one dollar for adults and fifty cents for children, which price includes a dessert and drink and tossed green salad and bread.

Serving will begin at the Woman's Club at five p. m. Monday and continue until about eight.
The City Drug Company and the Fulton News have a supply of tickets on hand as does Happy's Package Store and the Jewel Box.

Many surprises are in store for the guests and only an admission ticket will reveal all the unusual ideas planned for the event. The dinner is being staged to make needed improvements on the St.
Edward's Church and School in Fulton.

Jottings
from Jo's

Note Book

For as long as Paul and I have been in Fulton, and that has been nearly 14 years, we have had a most pleasant and gratifying relationship with all of the churches in the Fulton area, be it Protestant, Jew or Catholic. This relationship has been heart-warming to us, because we believe that Fulton counts among its membership nearly all of the small and large religious denominations in the world.

When we bought Radio Station WFUL in 1955 we had the occasion to meet even more members of religious faiths in the area and we have exerted every effort to work harmoniously with every group and to extend our facilities, whenever possible, to broadcasts of every nature to create a better understanding of one faith with another.

Radio Station WFUL, operating under the rules and regulations of the Federal Communications Commission, is required by law, to grant almost a third of its broadcast time to public service, and I think that if we ever found the time to add up those percentages, you will agree with us that WFUL goes far beyond its requirements. That's the way we want it.

We have tried with all humility to apportion our time equally between religious, fraternal, civic, cultural and farm programs to meet what the Commission says is, in our judgment, those programs that best meet the needs and interests of the area we serve. We are constantly striving to fulfill our responsibility and if we fail sometimes it is an error of the mind and not the heart.

The policy to allocate broadcast time for religious broadcasts has been difficult indeed. With hundreds of churches in our area, we could not and will not be the judge of any one church that could best assume the programming of religious broadcasts for the station under our responsibility to the FCC. It is not within our province to judge the sincerity or the beliefs of those churches who seek to participate on our Morning Devotions program; for every man is entitled to his religious belief and like Voltaire we might say: "We do not agree with what you say, but we will defend with our life your right to say it."

In our programming at WFUL we have, what many of you listen to daily, a program at 8:45 a. m. each day called Morning Devotions.
It is a non-denominational worship service, designed to give you a comforting message of hope and a prayer for the day. Because the Fulton Ministerial Alliance is an organization of ministers, representing most of the churches in the area, we asked them to assume the task of programming Morning Devotions. At the station, you must know, that we are called upon almost daily for some preacher or another to participate in morning devotions; some are itinerant preachers, some are persons with no churches, but wishing to preach on the air, some are members of cults, rather than religions and some are honest and sincere individuals who feel that they have a message to bring to the people, and perhaps they have.

My staff and I have discussed the matter at length, and being station owner and manager the ultimate decision is mine. But, I have asked myself many times, "How can I be the judge of this man's sincerity? How can I refuse him time because his church is small, or because his religion is in his heart and his followers are few?" I could not do it, and yet I had an obligation to fulfill. And

Methodists Mourn Bishop Watkins

Funeral services were held Wednesday in Louisville for retired Methodist Bishop William Watkins.

The 65-year-old leader of 300-000 Kentucky and Western Tennessee Methodists died at a hospital Monday night, a day after suffering a heart attack in his car.

The fatal attack was the Bishop's third since 1956. The second preceded his retirement in 1959 as head of the Kentucky, the Louisville and the Memphis Methodist conferences 1,600 churches.

Saddened Community Pays Tribute To Beloved Mrs. Hattie Mae Binford

Mrs. Hattie Mae Binford died unexpectedly on Monday night and her death brought grief and sadness to a community who knew and loved her. Her quiet and gracious life was summed up by a nurse at the Fulton Hospital who was her school mate at Carr Institute. Said the nurse "I went all through school with Hattie Mae and have known her through the years and I never knew her to say an unkind or a harsh word about any human being on earth."

That sentiment was repeated many times over as hundreds of devoted friends called and paid their last respects to this lovely Fultonian whose home was her castle, whose family was her life and whose friends she counted among those persons in all walks of life.

Although she was from a prominent and pioneer family of the Fulton area, her ready smile and the courteous discharge of her duties at the City National Bank made her hundreds of friends who mourn her passing just as those close friends of the family. She was an asset to the banking institution where she worked for more than 10 years and her devotion to her church, her family and her friends made her a personal asset in the lives of those persons on whom she bestowed devoted loyalty.

Mrs. Binford was born in Madison County, Tennessee September 22, 1907. She was married to Charles Binford on October 3, 1931. She was a member of the First Methodist Church in Fulton.

Irate Factory Workers Protest Fulton's Auto Tax In Appearance Before Council

An angry delegation of several dozen factory employees from the Ferry-Morse and Siegel Kentucky-side factories appeared before the Fulton City Council last night to protest the $10-per-auto city sticker tax assessed against out-of-town employees who drive daily to the local factories to work.
The tax is due March 1st.

Petitions against the tax, signed by substantial numbers of employees of the two plants, preceded vocal opposition at the Council meeting.

Opponents to the tax pointed out these facts:

—Many local factory employees ride in car pools to work, using their personal vehicles as little as once a week to come in to town; get they will have to pay the full tax. (The council agreed that they would).

—Many employees feel that it is the will of local merchants that employment should be encouraged here, not assessed for working here, pointing out that the Chamber of Commerce is continually trying to get more local industry; (The council agreed that more local industry is continually being sought);

—It was pointed out that South Fulton charges $5 for a similar city tax on out-of-town factory workers' cars, and that Fulton should at least be in line with South Fulton; (The council stated that South Fulton regulates its own policies, and Fulton its own);

—It was pointed out that on a reciprocal agreement South Fulton residents working in either Kentucky factory would not have to buy a Fulton city tag if they had already bought a $5 South Fulton tag, and vice versa for Fulton residents working in South Fulton; (The Council admitted this was so);

—It was pointed out that farmers who drive daily or frequently to Fulton to transact business won't have to buy a city tag; (The Council re-affirmed that tags applied only to out-of-towners who earn a livelihood in Fulton);

—It was pointed out that some angry employees will seek reprisals against local merchants by trading elsewhere; (The Council pointed out that this same auto tax exists in other communities around Fulton.)

On the affirmative side of the ledger, Mayor Tripp pointed out these facts to justify the Council's action:

—The City must have more revenue, and if a city auto tax doesn't get it, a payroll tax may have to be substituted in place of it;

—Mayfield, Murray and Paducah now have similar license fees for factory workers living out of their respective communities, so the plan is neither new nor the amount exorbitant in this area.

—Practically no complaints had been noted from any other sources in Fulton, despite the fact that many firms have up to a dozen or more employees who drive in daily and will be subject

J. O. Matlick Is Named Chairman Farm-City Week

State Conservation Commissioner J. O. Matlick has been elected 1961 chairman of the statewide Farm-City Week Committee at the annual meeting in Lexington.

Farm-City Week each November places emphasis on rural-urban inter-dependence, both social and economic. Communities throughout the state have banquets, breakfasts and other events to bring together the two segments.

No Speeches, But Plenty of Hot Dogs Will Feature Blue, Gold Banquet

A Blue and Gold banquet that will permit the Cub Scouts and their guests to take a look at these United States is scheduled for Friday night February 10 at the South Fulton School cafeteria. Theme of the annual banquet will be the manners and life in fifteen American States, excluding Kentucky and Tennessee, which folks in these parts know a good deal about. There will be no speech-making.

Fulton's Cub Scout organization is the largest in the history of the group with 110 members. This year there is some apprehension that the large South Fulton School cafeteria will not be able to hold the Cub Scouts, their parents, their den chiefs and their parents, the Pack Committee and a few invited guests.

Constantly seeking to find new interests and new programs for the boys the committee in charge came up this year with an "all boys meal" and that means hot dogs, baked beans, potato chips and the trimmings with soda pop as the beverage. (Bi-So-Dol will teenman will introduce the guests.

Each of the fifteen dens has been working night and day to find unusual material with which to decorate the table at their designated places. One enterprising mother planted a stalk of corn at home and reports are that the plant is healthy and growing fine and will be ready for the big event Friday night.

The Lion Den, as in the past, will present the impressive flag ceremony and the Webelos Den, all decked out in their new uniforms will present the closing ceremonies. There will be singing participated in by the guests and Cubs and Den 15 will present a real, homes' to goodness Indian dance.

Cubmaster Scates will present the merit awards and as always the den mothers will be busy themselves all day long to make this program for the little boys in blue one of the most successful in history.

Upton, Allen To Head Seal Drive In Fulton County

Guy Upton, Jr. and Riley Allen, both of Fulton, have been named co-chairmen of the 1961 Easter Seal appeal in Fulton County. The appointments were announced by Ted R. Osborn, Lexington, state chairman.

The annual campaign will open March 6 and continue through April 3. Contributions will be used by the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children to provide care and treatment for physically handicapped children throughout the state.

Last year, 3,772 children received Society services at one or more of the following Easter Seal centers: Cardinal Hill Convalescent Hospital and Cardinal Hill Nursery School, Lexington; the West Kentucky Center for Handicapped Children, Paducah; the Northern Kentucky Crippled Children's Treatment Center and Opportunity School, Covington; and the Hearing and Speech Center, Louisville.

Osborn said that 90 per cent of the money remains in Kentucky to provide direct services to the physically handicapped. The reminder helps support a national program of research and education.

Former County Home Agent Leaves Service

Miss Alda Henning, former Mc-

Home Agent, retired February 4 after serving on the University of Kentucky Extension staff since 1930.

Bothered by ill health recently, Miss Henning will retire to her native Kansas to rest and care

In January of 1930 she became home agent of Fulton County where she organized canning centers during the depression.

Then 18 months later, August,

Davie Formally Announces For Sheriff's Race

J. Turner Davie, a lifelong resident of Fulton County today announced that he will be a candidate for Sheriff of Fulton County in the May primary.

Mr. Davie further stated:
To the voters of Fulton County: I wish to take this means of announcing my candidacy for the office of Sheriff of Fulton County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary to be held May 23, 1961.

I am very grateful indeed for the support and interest you have given me in the past. Many thanks to each and all of you.

I have lived in Fulton County all of my life and I married a Fulton County girl, the former Esther Byrd of Crutchfield. I will be 50 years of age on May 28. We have a 15 year old daughter and a 19 year old son.

Having served as Sheriff of Fulton County 1950 through 1953, I feel that I am much better qualified for this office than when I took office in January 1950. If elected, I feel that from experience, I will make a more efficient and more capable sheriff and I pledge my continued effort to serve you—honestly, impartially and to the best of my knowledge and ability.

I hope to see each and every one of you before election day, but in case I do not get to see you I take this means of asking for your vote and influence which will be very much appreciated.

Respectfully submitted, ton County, Tuesday, May 23, 1961

The Fulton Business and Professional Woman's Club will sponsor the Heart Fund Drive.

Mr. Frank King of Paducah, field director for the Kentucky Heart Association spoke before the organization at a meeting at the Kentucky Utilities building Tuesday night. Mrs. Ramelle Pigue will be chairman of the 1961 heart campaign here. Vice-chairman of the campaign will be Mrs.
Mildred Freeman. The month long campaign will reach its high point on Heart Sunday, February and residential districts to call on their neighbors for contributions.

Projects Poppin' Out All Over And Jaycees Politiking, Too!

To read the monthly news letter from the Fulton Junior Chamber of Commerce organization is to wonder how so many busy young men, gainfully employed, can keep so busy with community affairs day by day with every project a major undertaking. The monthly Jaycee news letter arrived in the mail Monday and so that you might have a glimpse into the workings and the planning of this group we're printing a portion of their letter as we read it.

Here are some excerpts:

Politicking A-Plenty!

With only six weeks to go before our local election of officers, the politicking is now gaining momentum daily. One or more candidates for each office are now sweeping office and campaigning openly. If you have the ambition and desire to serve, now is the time to throw your hat in the ring! With membership increasing, the competition for office is getting keener each year.

Why? Because there is no greater opportunity for a young man's personal development than the privilege of serving as an officer of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Don't let valuable time slip by - get in the race now!

Kudos To You!

Probably the most pressing business of the club at the moment is the DSA Banquet to be held at the Fulton Country Club, Friday night, February 24th.
Tennessee State President George Spence will give the principle address. He is an accomplished speaker and will without doubt be an inspiration to all who are fortunate enough to hear him. It is of utmost importance that every member of the club make a special effort to attend and to bring a guest to this outstanding event.

On a separate enclosure with this newsletter, you will find your ballot for voting on the winners of the various awards. Ballots must be postmarked no later than February 17th to be counted. It is hoped that every member of the club will exercise their right to vote so that no select few will choose the award winners. Won't you mark your ballot and mail it today?

Add-A-Club Dept.!

The newly organized Hickman Jaycees have announced that Saturday night, February 25th is the date set for their Charter night banquet. Your support and attendance to this event is needed to help this eager group of young men to get their club off to a good start. Make your plans now to attend. Wives will also be invited.

And A Prayer, Too!

Religious Activities Chairman Riley Tate is to be commended for a job well done in the production of the city map and church directory project. Copies are now being placed in all motel rooms and restaurants and the program has been especially well received.
It is pleasing to note that our club is becoming more and more conscious each year of the need for religious activities within the club. Every meeting is preceded by an invocation, and the club Chaplain has become an important office in our local club as it has in many throughout the state this year.

More Jaycees!

Congratulations to our membership and extension committee on an outstanding job. Membership has increased by a total of 21 members in recent weeks in our local club. In addition to this, the Charter date has been set for Feb.

25th for a new club being organized at Hickman, Kentucky. The local membership drive ended in a tie between team captains Harold Henderson and Camell Rowland. Both have done an outstanding job in offering the opportunities of Jaycees to other young men in the community. It is always a pleasure to welcome new men into our fine organization and the following is a list of those who have signed up in the past few weeks and are now ready to serve with the same kind of zeal and integrity that has become a tradition to the Fulton Jaycees.

TVA Says Kentucky Utilities Distorts Picture Of TVA Power Financing In Answer To Editorial

Several weeks ago the News reprinted a letter sent to Time Magazine setting forth the tax structure and financing of private utilities as compared to that of the TVA. An interested Fulton citizen sent a copy of the News to the Tennessee Valley Authority and this week an answer to that letter came to B. B. Henderson of Country Club Courts. A. P. Brazelton, district manager of the TVA didn't pull any punches in answering the Kentucky Utilities position with reference to taxes and financing and because TVA's answer is most interesting we thought you'd like to read the letter to Mr. Henderson, which was sent to the News for perusal.

If you read the first letter that appeared in the News and then read the letter printed below you'll find yourself somewhat confused as we are. Being no mathematicians we print the letter for your consumption.

So here's the letter:

Mr. B. B. Henderson
Fulton, Kentucky
Dear Mr. Henderson:

Thank you for sending me the clipping from the Fulton, Kentucky, News with the letter of Kentucky Utilities to Time magazine. Two points might be made about this letter.

First, the reference to 76 counties in the TVA area as being designated "distressed areas" seems to me to prove nothing. Distressed areas exist throughout the country. Some of the most aggravated are reported to be in Appalachian mountain areas unaffected in any way by TVA. Others are in steel producing centers where depressed economic conditions exist. A recent Department of Labor assessment of unemployment conditions placed Knoxville and Nashville in the same category as Los Angeles, Chicago and New York, and Chattanooga in the same groups as Birmingham, Detroit and Pittsburgh. It could as reasonably be asserted that private power companies serving the non-TVA sections, or the steel industry which is the mainstay of others, therefore, that KU has proved nothing about TVA by noting economic distress in the area it serves.

Second, in discussing the financing of TVA, the KU letter resorts to hypothetical arithmetic which has been used for many years to distort the true picture of TVA power financing. For example, KU would impose on the investment in power facilities an interest rate of 4 percent when the actual interest rate paid by the Federal Government, during the period in which appropriations were used for power development, was between 2 and 2-1/2 percent. Moreover, while the law did not require TVA to pay interest on appropriated funds, the power system actually earned enough to pay the cost of the money invested. Its average earnings were around 4 percent. Since TVA is a Federal agency, its net income belonged to the U. S. Government, regardless of whether it was actually returned to the Treasury.

Another trick of hypothetical finance is to relate taxes to something other than net income. KU here relates taxes to gross revenues, whereas Federal income taxes pertain only to net income.

If TVA were subject to Federal income taxes, they would be low because TVA deliberately keeps its net income low. As it is, all TVA net income belongs to the Government whether or not it is taxed.

Questions of finance and taxation are intensely complicated and it is much easier to confuse the issues than to explain them. A number of other errors and misrepresentations are contained in the KU letter but I believe discussion of them would not be useful. The enclosed booklets "Facts about TVA Operations" and "TVA Power and Taxes" take up these matters in some detail.

Very truly yours,
Tennessee Valley Authority
A. P. Brazelton, Dist. Mgr.

SERMONETTE OF THE WEEK

Are Old People Useless?

By Paschal Botz, Benedictine monk

Our typical attitude toward old people today is one of forgetfulness. The old man on the street or in a crowd commands no attention. He must step aside to save himself from the onrush of youth.

Newspapers and movies idolize youth and the strength and energy that go with it. This catering to and glorifying youth helps make our old folks feel useless and unwanted.

REMINDE the older people at every turn that they cannot compete with youth, and they will soon feel unimportant. Keep before the public eye only the disorders of old age, and you are using an effective device for bringing on those very defects. Hold up to the aged this mirror and small wonder that they become strangers to themselves and to their families and friends.

This is not the Christian outlook.

THE VALUE of every human person, no matter how young or how old, how healthy or sick, is an age-old truth of Christian living. The value of every life, and of each day given us to live on this earth, comes not from the

STRICTLY BUSINESS

"It's the uncertainty that gets me!"

FROM THE FILES:—

Turning Back The Clock--

February 1941

The Fulton Board of Education met Monday night at the high school building to decide whether or not to work with the WPA on the construction of a new building for Carr Institute school.

A large crowd attended the regular second Sunday singing at the City Hall Sunday afternoon.

A week of celebration in honor of the 31st anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scouts began with services Sunday at the First Baptist Church. Rev. E. R. Ladd, chairman of the Fulton Ministerial Association was assisted by Rev. Wulf of the Episcopal Church, Rev. William Woodburn of the First Christian Church, Rev. L. O. Hartman of the First Methodist Church and Rev. E. A. Autrey, pastor of the Baptist Church.

The world champion New York Celtics are bringing their basketball team Monday to engage a return battle with the Union University Bulldogs at the Science Hall. The game is sponsored by the YMBC.

The local fire truck struck a car driven by D. Grissom of near Water Valley last Friday noon.

Both car and truck were badly damaged.

YMBC president, H. O. Wright has appointed Lynn Phipps and Orian Winstead to work with the Lions Club in an effort to bring an airport to Fulton.

The YMBC appointed a committee to ask the City Council to buy a new fire truck, pointing out that the old truck was so dilapidated that when a fire occurred in Highlands recently the city had to call the South Fulton fire department to put out the fire and pay them $75.

The Honor Roll at Cayce for the fifth month included the following:

100 Years Ago This Week

An Historical review of THE CIVIL WAR DAY-BY-DAY (Material is from publication of exactly one hundred years ago; original wording from references in the Library of Congress, Washington. Reporting in the papers was usually very one-sided; we seek to be fair in coverage and preserve a national balance. . . . ED)

BY WILLIAM H. McHENRY

Second week in February 1861

One hundred years ago this week the Confederate States of America was born. Organization of the Confederacy started on February 4, 1861, when delegates from Florida, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, and Louisiana met in Montgomery to draw up a temporary government. That government was to last for more than four years through the most bitter and trying of times . . . the years called "The War Between the States."

Jefferson Davis of Mississippi was named President and Alexander H. Stephens of Georgia was made Vice-President. Six prominent leaders of the South became cabinet members, and Montgomery, Alabama, was named as the capital. (Later changed to Richmond).

The Constitution of the Confederate States was modeled after the Constitution of the United States, but it contained six important differences.

The term of the President and the Vice-President was to be six years, and the President could not succeed himself.

Members of the cabinet could debate in the Confederate Congress, but they could not vote.

Foreign slave trade was prohibited, but not slavery.

Congress was forbidden to make appropriations for internal improvements, to levy a protective tariff, or to give bounties.

A two-thirds vote of both houses of Congress was necessary to admit a new state in to the Confederacy or to make appropriations not asked for by the heads of the departments through the President.

The President was permitted to veto single items in the appropriations bills.

The "Border States" of Maryland, West Virginia, Kentucky and Missouri had their own internal Civil Wars. If Maryland se-ceded, the Nation's Capitol City would go with the South, but the militia within the city was supposed to be strongly Union.

The Governor of Maryland was for the Union, but the Senate was strongly pro-southern. Newspapers of February, 1861, said that the aims of the Southern sympathizers in Maryland were:

1. To impeach the Governor.
2. To remove the District Attorney, and accuse him of various crimes.
3. To keep Lincoln from ever reaching Washington.
4. To keep Union troops from reaching Washington. (this led to riots later).
5. To "Tie the State of Maryland to the car of South Carolina."

Over a score of U. S. forts, arsenals, and navy yards had been seized by the Southerners. By the time Lincoln was inaugurated on March 4, the United States had only four major forts left in the South: Ft. Sumter, Ft. Pickens at the mouth of Pensacola Bay, Key West, and Ft. Monroe in Virginia.

In the U. S. House of Representatives a committee, on January 14, recommended that the Fugitive Slave Act be enforced, and the personal liberty laws of the North be repealed. The amendments were never ratified.

A small ship, the STAR OF THE WEST, had attempted to bring help to Ft. Sumter on January 9th, but had returned when it was fired on by South Carolina troops.

The Nation was still not ready for open war. On February 4th, a conference of 21 States met in Washington to draw up what became known as the "Crittenden Compromise". This was a final effort to keep the Southern States from leaving the Union. The Compromise proposed six amendments to the Constitution. Slavery was to be protected south of 36 degrees, 30 minutes, but prohibited north of that line. The Compromise would have denied the right of Congress to abolish slavery in the territories, and would protect the interstate slave trade. It also provided for payment by the United States to the owners of slaves who had been helped to escape.

Abraham Lincoln's stand against any extension of slavery is said to have prevented the passage of the Crittenden Compromise.

A song had been written which would become famous. Mississippi had a "secession" flag, a blue banner with a single star. The song? "The Bonnie Blue Flag, that bears a single star . . ."

Anger . . . unreasoning anger . . . was taking command of the senses on both sides. In the South there was anger at the Federal Government for not evacuating Ft. Sumter which was in South Carolina's territorial waters. There was anger at any and every form of abolition, and at any idea that other "John Brown type of raids" might be staged into southern states. Said the South Carolina commissioners to Buchanan: "You promised . . . we were promised Ft. Sumter!"

There was anger in the North at the stories being circulated of a systematic stripping of northern arsenals, with the guns and military supplies being shipped south. (It seems that the arms were stolen from the northern arsenals and then sold to the South, who bought in good faith, but few Northern papers would believe that!) And there was anger at the replies which southern business men were sending north when requested to pay debts for goods which had been made in the north and sold south. And there was bitter anger at the Union's efforts to enforce the Fugitive Slave Law to compromise with the South.

On the night of Lincoln's inauguration, that March fourth, Merrill of Ohio showed members of the cabinet letters he had received from southern debtors. One man said (but not in these words) "We will pay you like we paid John Brown." Another said "I cannot return the goods, for they are sold and the money invested in muskets to shoot you damn Yankees."

The point of no return?

Welcome back to Fulton, Bill Scott!—Saw Bill Tuesday morning doing business at his old stand (Fry Shoe Store) and he tells me he has sold his shoe emporium in Mayfield and is now back to stay.

That will be good news to the many activities Bill used to lend his energy and talents to around Fulton.

See where Castro has seized the water supply serving the Navy base at Guantanamo Bay on the southeastern tip of Cuba, which brings us to remember a few remarks we heard in Louisville a couple weeks ago. They were at the Kentucky Press convention, by a noted correspondent who seems to have his fingers pretty well on the Cuban situation. Correspondent Jules Dubois of the Chicago Tribune, two weeks ago, gave Castro about 30 days more to live, saying that one more assassination attempts would be made by that time.

Dubois also predicted soon that fierce, determined civil war would break out in Cuba, resulting either in Castro being killed or, if driven back to his hide-out in the mountains, the beginning of the bloodiest civil war ever seen in this hemisphere.

Beginning this year, we are all taking note of our own Civil War anniversary dates, a hundred years ago. Castro could write a nauseating modern version that we hope won't happen.

Our best salute this week to Colonel Ernest Hancock, newly-commissioned a Kentucky Colonel by Governor Combs.

Kentucky not only has Elvis Stahr, Jr. serving in Washington, but also Frank J. Welch of UK as assistant Secretary of Agriculture for Federal-State relations. Congressman Frank Stubblefield, in his newsy "Report from Washington" this week, cites Dean Welch as "an exceptionally able agriculturist who is respected all across the country."

Although I was invited to the West Kentucky Forest Fire Prevention Conference at the Dam last weekend and couldn't go, I See where the publicity director of Campus Lights at Murray has been so carried away with a dog character in the production called "Oliver" that he prevailed on Mayor Holmes Ellis to declare Feb. 4 "Oliver" day in Murray. Wonder what John Deere and International and the other implement dealers thought about that.

Say Earl, tell us more about them long-handles. Understand you still wear 'em.

By the way, don't go tellin' all you know about fixing courts. Some folks might think you knew someone who wasn't honest.

Covington Resigns SF Fire Department

Regular council meeting of the South Fulton City Council was held February 6. Virgil Covington, night fire chief, who has been with the city since 1955—resigned to accept employment with Duke's Auto Parts. Applications for his replacement will be accepted at the City Hall until February 20, to replace him. Mr. Nickles of Nickles Engineering Firm accompanied by Julian R. Flemings of the state health department in Nashville provided the plans and specifications along with bid data and also costs for the new sewer disposal plant. Members of the Fulton City Council were unable to attend and report on the sewer disposal plant due to their own meeting.

Miss Elaine Prather, last summer crowned the Obion county "Honey Queen", last fall the state title, has now received the highest such honor attainable. Friday night Frank Morrison, governor of Nebraska placed the crown upon her head. Miss Prather, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Prather of Woodland, was competing against young beauties representing 16 states. She will now spend a large portion of the year touring the nation. Miss Prather is the second Tennessee girl to win the coveted honor in as many years. Last year's queen was Monica McNutt of Nashville and, with Miss McNutt the reigning queen, it was even more difficult for Miss Prather to follow in her footsteps. The federation prefers to select queens from different states each year.

I think I have fulfilled that responsibility.

Before we made the decision we consulted the Federal Communications Commission and many radio stations in the Nation, and with this information at hand we decided to grant our free religious broadcast time to the Fulton Ministerial Alliance. I hope you will agree with me that this is the right decision.

The decision as to what churches will participate on Morning Devotions is within the province of the Fulton Ministerial Alliance and having granted them this responsibility we can not prevail upon them to make exceptions to any rules that they have made regarding the broadcasts. To deviate from that decision would be to open the door to exceptions to other policies we have made, which in our humble judgment, are in the best interests of our listeners.

to the tax.

An estimated 91 autos at Ferry Morse and 73 at the Siegel Kentucky plant will be affected by the tax, with a total of around 500 throughout the city to come under the new ruling. A Councilman told this reporter at the meeting. In other business following the factory delegation's protest, the Council:

—Listened to a request from "Butch" DeMyer to stop trucks from making such a noise as they climb the West State Line overpass. The Council replied that it could penalize a trucker for excessive speed but could do little if the truck was using an approved muffler, although it would pass the information on to a neighboring truck line that DeMyer reported as "excessively noisy".

—Announced that Bridge Improvement Bonds would be offered for sale here on February 15th.

—Formally annexed the new 81-acre McDade subdivision West of Fulton after learning that the Circuit Court had accepted this proposal February 4th.

—Asked for a report on the Riceville annexation project, learned that the Illinois Central and five others had protested, and declined to set a trial date for proceedings.

—Adjourned till Wednesday, Feb. 15 to take up the Highlands sewer matters.

Diary of Doin's

(Items gathered along Fulton's merryway for your pleasure and your scrapbook)

It is not uncommon these days to talk to a "young" matron and find out pretty soon that she's a grandmother. We think that this phenomenon has come about because there are so many young mothers and what's more the Fulton area is full of 'em. This fact came home to us quite "loud and clear" the other day when we had the occasion to invite a group of young matrons to a coffee party at our house honoring Barbara Ann Boyd, who has been entertained by small fry, young matrons and by groups that we shall term advisedly, but without basis of fact, the "older" set.

Last Saturday Mary Jo Westpheling and Carmen and Marianna Weaks donned their frilly little frocks and had a real grown-up party for their all-time favorite and while the little ladies did all the serving, greeting and entertaining the guests the "mommies" did the inviting and it was a hilarious occasion for this reporter to call a young matron and be greeted first by a wee voice saying "hello" and then by some intermittent wailing and joyous sound effects in the background.

that the sound of the telephone ringing is like the gong at a prize fight . . . a small respite to stop the shenanigans and dash to the Alexander Bell invention and find out who's on the other end of the line. Some of the young 'uns whose mothers we called are a little too small to answer the phone, but they proved that their hearing is in great shape, because they kept up a constant wail while the little lady of the house accepted the invitation and we might say gladly.

And that's where the grandmothers come in. They've had a

Miss Barbara Ann Boyd Makes Known Her Wedding Plans To Mr. Thomas Templeton

Miss Barbara Ann Boyd and Thomas McKelvey Templeton will exchange their marriage vows February 18 at the First Methodist Church here.

The wedding will be at five o'clock in the afternoon. Officiating will be the Rev. John L. Horton, superintendent of the North Memphis District of the Methodist Church, and the Rev. James L. Leggett, pastor of the First Methodist Church. The Rev. Mr. Horton is an uncle of the bridegroom.

Miss Boyd is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gould Boyd of Fulton and Mr. Templeton is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Clayton Templeton of 1843 Central, Memphis.

John C. Winter of Murray, Ky., will play the organ, and Thomas Ward Thomas of Paducah, Ky., will be the soloist.

Mr. Boyd will give his daughter in marriage.

The bride has asked Miss Ella Adelaide Boyle of Fulton to be her maid of honor. Bridesmaids will be Miss Virginia McKelvey Templeton and Mrs. John Howard Templeton, sister and sister-in-law of the bridegroom, and Miss Kay Krieger, all of Memphis; Miss Charlotte Anne Fall of Fulton and Miss Linda Ann Jones of Fort Worth, Texas.

The cousins of the bride-elect, Linda Ann Stokes and David Francis Stokes of Fulton, will be flowergirl and ring bearer.

Dr. Templeton will serve as best man for his son, and groomsmen will be John Howard Templeton, brother of the bridegroom, and James Elmore Holmes Jr., both of Memphis; Alfred Lee Bushart and James Gaylon Varden, both of Fulton; Charles T. Rucker of Lebanon, Tenn., and Richard Hugh Sullivan Jr., of Memphis and Nashville.

To assist at the wedding reception at the Fulton Country Club, Miss Boyd has asked Mrs. Jerry Phillips and Miss Priscilla Lee of Memphis, Mrs. Virginia Stokes, Miss Judy Browning, Miss Mary Ann Bennett, Miss Susan Bushart, Mrs. Maxwell McDade Jr., Mrs. Charles W. Binford, Miss Pam Homra, Miss Norma Owen, Miss Terry Thomas, Miss Mary Jo Westpheling, Miss Marianna Weaks, Miss Carmen Weaks and Miss Gail Bushart, all of Fulton.

Miss Patsy Jo Fields and Miss Phyllis Kelly of Hickman, Ky., Mrs. Charles T. Rucker of Lebanon, Mrs. R. Bruce Jones of Dyersburg, Tenn., Mrs. Gary L. Haynes of Henderson, Ky., Miss Cheryl Rice of Crossett, Ark., cousin of the bride, and Miss Jackie Hinton of Savannah, Tenn.

Music at the reception will be played by Miss Jane Edwards of Fulton.

After their marriage the couple will return to live at 289 Stonewall. Mr. Templeton is employed by W. E. Grace Chemical Co.

field day these past few weeks while Barbara Ann has been the center of attraction because the young mothers just call up the grandmother and say: "Could you stay with the children while I . . ."

"And that's the end of the conversation, because if there's anything in these parts that's getting to be a great indoor sport its keeping the grand babies. And Barbara Ann's pre-nuptial events have made a spectacular production of "grand children keeping" because there have been so many occasions for the young, young mothers to take a few hours away from formulas, pabulum and naps.

Meanwhile at the Boyd home on the Union City highway the time nears for W-day and Tom Templeton came up for the weekend to visit for a short while with his bride-to-be. Barbara's father, Paul, has developed a kindred spirit with Tom, since both have had to stand by while Barbara Ann and Irene make the rounds of the gay parties for this popular bride-elect. Paul, found a corner in the Boyd home not previously confiscated for wedding presents and he has called it "The T-T corner" . . . all equipped with do-it-yourself gadgets and tools especially for Tom Templeton. That was real thought of Paul to do that because a fellow like Tom needs some activity to while away the time until he can claim Barbara Ann for his very own.

Last week and continuing into this week the social whirl is still humming for Barbara Ann. At a perfectly lovely luncheon, in one of the most gracious and hospitable homes in Fulton Mrs. Smith Atkins, Mrs. Frank Beades and Mrs. Louis Weaks entertained at a luncheon for Barbara Ann last Wednesday. The Atkins home made a mockery of the weatherman because inside the house looked like Spring with fresh blossoms everywhere in those spacious living and dining rooms.

And Thursday morning Miss Gertrude Murphy, Mrs. C. L. Madcox and Mrs. W. L. Durbin snapped their fingers at the elements and transformed the Murphy home into a warm and delightful atmosphere for a breakfast honoring Barbara Ann. The guests enjoyed visiting together in front of an open fire and nothing spells congeniality and togetherness more than the crackling logs in the fire place. Barbara Ann was presented with a lovely corsage and a gift plate as a memento of the occasion.

Saturday at noon some of the guests hurried from our Westwood on West State Line to a one o'clock luncheon at the Park Terrace where Mrs. Sterling Bennett and her daughter Mrs. Jerry Phillips, Mrs. Charles Gregory and her daughter Mrs. Charles Binford and Mrs. James Warren did the honors.

On Sunday morning Barbara Ann and Tom took off for Memphis to attend an announcement party for Virginia Templeton and Richard Sullivan whose approaching nuptials were announced Sunday. Our congratulations go out to Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Templeton, Tom's parents, who will be hearing wedding bells long after Barbara Ann and Tom middle aisle it on February 18 in Fulton. Barbara Ann and Tom helped served at the party, which must have been much fun for the brother and sister and their "intendeds".

Barbara Ann came home from Memphis on Monday for a wee bit of a rest before she enjoyed another lovely coffee party at the William Hill residence. When Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Billy Homra, Mrs. Morgan Omar and Mrs. Gene Williamson gathered around the bride-elect and her guests to hear all about the party in Memphis on Sunday and to share with the bride-elect some happy moments before the wedding.

And time marches on, don't you worry about that. Just as we put the finishing touches to Barbara Ann's gay whirl for the past few days we got an emergency call from a young man at our house who wanted to talk about a dance in Hickman on Friday. When asked what he wanted to talk about he said he wanted me to order a corsage for his lady fair. Thinking that he was still a little boy who was interested in erector sets, the Morse code and other strictly boyish activities we said: "We can't get a corsage unless we know what she's going to wear." We should have known that he's learning fast. "Oh," said he, "I asked her and she's going to wear blue." The only comment to this story is that some day we may be a grandmother, but it won't be a young one, of that you are sure. We've always said that if we live to see them parting around for a wedding the hostesses will say . . . "We ought to ask little old Mrs. Westpheling. We can keep her warm and covered well while she gets from the car to the house and maybe she won't shrivel away."

Beauty parlor talk is always such fun and you can find out some real human interest stories if you're looking for them. For instance we found out this week that lovely young Sherry Milstead has never missed a Sunday School lesson in eight years and whenever the family is out of town they must make arrangements to take time out for Sunday School and church, not only for Sherry's record but because they want to, of course. Sherry's mother said that they have attended some of the sweetest little country churches to keep Sherry's record intact and now the whole family is caught up in the pleasure of keeping a perfect Sunday School record. Sherry is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Milstead and they attend the First Baptist Church in Fulton.

FULTON HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

By Karen Dublin

The seniors held a class meeting on Monday afternoon, and chose their motto, flower, and colors. The motto, "We build the ladder by which we rise", was picked by a large majority, but the selection of the colors proved to be harder decision. Finally decided upon, were the school's colors, Blue and White. The red rose was selected as the class flower.

Mrs. Bennett, FHS English teacher, has announced that the senior research themes will be started within the next couple of weeks. This is an occasion which the senior classes look forward (???) to each year. We will have approximately one month to complete the themes.

Fulton High seems to be one of the favorite spots for student teachers from Murray State, now-a-days. We have a grand total of five—four men and one woman—this semester. There are two men helping Coaches Caddas and Caldwell in physical education. They are Mr. Bill Taylor and Mr. Herman Reed. Assisting Mrs. Bennett in English, is Mr. A. R. Thomas, whose wife is the former Carolyn Collier of South Fulton. Teaching physics is Miss Norma Owens, a 1958 graduate of Fulton High. And finally, Mr. Ed Weckwert is doing his practice teaching in the typing department.

FHS also has a new full-time teacher, Mr. Ronnie Babb, who is taking over the math department. Mr. Babb is a graduate of Murray State.

Spirit is really high for the Fulton-Fulton County basketball game on Friday night in Carr gym. The Pilots took a close one over the Bulldogs in Hickman back during December. But now the game will be on the FHS home court, and we are hoping for a really big VICTORY!! A big pep rally will be held in the gym on Friday afternoon, and the high school, junior high and grade school students will all be there. The cheerleaders have a really cute skit planned, and hope that all the students will really yell!

An important game with the Hickman County Falcons was played in Clinton on Tuesday night. A large crowd accompanied the team.

In last weeks action, the Bulldogs dropped two close ones, one to Sedalia, 51-48, and the other to South Marshall, 62-57.

Another important game will be played on Tuesday night, February 14, in the Carr Gym. The Bulldogs will meet the Wingo Indians.

The First District Tournament will be held at the Hickman County High School gym on March 1, 2, 3, and 4. The Bulldogs and the Fulton County Pilots will lead off the tourney in a game to be played on Wednesday night at 7:30. The winner will play Hickman County in the semi-finals. Carlisle County and Riverview, who drew byes, will also clash in the semi-finals. The winners of these two games will play in the finals on Saturday night.

If anyone in Fulton needs any help filling out their income tax forms, they can just call on one of the "experts" from Fulton High. Supt. W. L. Holland has been teaching the bookkeeping and business math classes all the fundamentals of the tax reports. The students were given sample problems, and then filled in the forms just as they would do in real-life situations. It proved to be a very interesting and informative class.

A very interesting assembly program was presented in the gym on Tuesday morning. It consisted of a team of glassblowers who made all sorts of objects such as ships, birds, etc., out of molten glass. It was one in a series of Southern Assembly programs which are presented each year.

Once again, remember the BIG game with Fulton County Friday night in Carr gym. The B-game will begin at 700 p. m. Come on out and see a real exciting game!

Telephone Talk

H. D. HAYES
Your Telephone Manager

AM I RIGHT? The most welcome Valentine you can send on February 14th is YOU—via a Long Distance call to someone you love. Hearts and flowers and cupid with bows and arrows are dandy, but no message is more heart-warming than your voice saying "Happy Valentine" across the miles.

MUSIC TO YOUR EARS—

Now, thanks to the new Bell Chime, your telephone can ring gently and melodiously. You can have the Bell Chime installed in the hallway, family room, or any spot you choose. The handy switch also lets you set it for a regular ring or a loud bell to reach you in distant parts of the house. Why not call our Business Office today and discover how easy and inexpensive it is to ring in a new era of happy sounds in your home.

SPEAKING OF VALENTINES—a sentimental gift that makes wonderful sense is a Princess phone. Seems to me any homemaker would be mighty happy to have a Princess extension within easy reach. In the bedroom, for instance, where it takes up almost no room on a night table. Pretty as a Valentine, too, in five colors to fit any decorating scheme, and so light it's like hefting a feather. And it lights up when you lift the receiver. How about it? Know someone special you'd like to ask to be your Princess with this lovely little phone?

"This is the last time I'll toss a coin.
I'm puttin' a phone in each room!!"

Great Snakes Alive! Eighteen of 'Em...

Frank Cardwell, operating his bulldozer last Wednesday in a field behind the Kingsway Motel in Highlands, scooped out a big den of assorted snakes, as this picture will testify.

Included in the writhing mass were at least one copperhead, seven blue or black racers, two chicken snakes and six assorted garden snakes; two others, not identified, were cut to bits by the 'dozer blade.

Some of them, as you can see from this picture, were four to five feet long.
